

Wednesday, March 05 2008

▶	AREA V – SUMMING-UP & FUTURE PROSPECTS
9.00 – 9.40	‘Seeing for Speaking’ – monolingual, multilingual and bilingual competence Monique Flecken_{1,2} & Barbara Schmiedtová₁ , Universität Heidelberg, & RU Nijmegen₂
9.45 – 10.25	Future research Christiane v. Stutterheim, Universität Heidelberg
10.30 – 11.00	COFFEE/TEA BREAK
from 11.00	GENERAL DISCUSSION
12.30 – 14.00	LUNCH BREAK & FAREWELL

This Symposium was funded by the Klaus-Georg and Sigrid Hengstberger Prize 2007.

Three Klaus-Georg and Sigrid Hengstberger Prizes are awarded annually to young scientists and researchers at the Ruprecht-Karls University of Heidelberg.
The prizes are intended to enable the recipients to present a scientific symposium on the theme of “The Ruperto Carola Symposium at the IWH:
A Sponsorship Award for Young Scientists” at the Internationales Wissenschaftsforum Heidelberg (IWH).

P R O G R A M

HENGSTBERGER-SYMPOSION

Seeing for Speaking

ODER

Wie Sprache unser Denken formt

03 – 05 March 2008

organized by Dr. Barbara Schmiedtová Universität Heidelberg, Seminar für Deutsch als Fremdsprachenphilologie
www.idf.uni-heidelberg.de/hengstberger_symposion.html

Monday, March 03 2008

9.00	OPENING Klaus-Georg Hengstberger
▶	AREA I – LANGUAGE & THOUGHT
9.15 – 9.45	The logos is common to all, but... Wolfgang Klein, MPI Nijmegen
9.50 – 10.20	The language and thought debate: Insights from bilingualism Panos Athanasopoulos, University of Bangor
10.25 – 10.55	From ‘Thinking to Speaking’ to ‘Seeing for Speaking’ Barbara Schmedtová, Universität Heidelberg
11.00 – 11.30	COFFEE/TEA BREAK
from 11.30	DISCUSSION Cathrine Fabricius-Hansen, University Oslo Peter Indefrey, MPI & F.C. Donders Nijmegen Christiane v. Stutterheim, Universität Heidelberg
13.00 – 14.00	LUNCH BREAK
▶	AREA II – LANGUAGE & CONCEPTS
14.00 – 14.30	Event conceptualization and grammatical aspect: Evidence from monolingual and bilingual speakers Emanuel Bylund, Stockholm University
14.35 – 15.05	Learning of concepts: Perspective from cognitive neuroscience Peter Indefrey, MPI & F.C. Donders Nijmegen
15.10 – 15.40	Language effects on conceptualization Scott Jarvis, Ohio University
15.45 – 16.15	COFFEE/TEA BREAK
from 16.15	DISCUSSION Rainer Dietrich, HU Berlin Monique Lambert, Paris VIII Debi Roberson, University of Essex
from 19.30	DINNER

Tuesday, March 04 2008

▶	AREA III – LANGUAGE PROCESSING & ATTENTION
9.00 – 9.30	The role of visual and executive attention in speech production and comprehension Antje Meyer & Debra Malpass, University of Birmingham
9.35 – 10.05	Developmental and cross-cultural aspects of action representation Christian Dobel, Universität Münster
10.10 – 10.40	Speaking about paintings: Does it change the way we look at them? Raphael Rosenberg, Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin & Universität Heidelberg
10.45 – 11.15	COFFEE/TEA BREAK
from 11.15	DISCUSSION Falk Huettig, MPI Nijmegen Christoph Klein, University of Bangor Peter Schneider, Universität Heidelberg
13.00 – 14.00	LUNCH BREAK
▶	AREA IV – TECHNICAL REALIZATION & METHODOLOGY
14.00 – 14.30	The use of Eye-Tracking in psycholinguistic research Markus Joos, Interactive Minds Dresden
14.35 – 15.05	Eye-Tracking: From static to dynamic stimuli Susanne Manke, University of Edinburgh & Takara Baumbach, Universität Heidelberg
15.15 – 15.45	COFFEE/TEA BREAK
from 15.45	DISCUSSION Joachim Funke, Universität Heidelberg Antje Meyer, University of Birmingham
from 19.30	DINNER